

self divers Imaginations and Forms of GOD
Worship and Religion which he hath not and established in Church.

I have been negligent in giving him his external Worship and Honour not falling down before Him with that inward Reverence of Spirit and Truth, nor with the outward Order and Humility of my Body, which is requisite always to be shewed forth and done before him.

III. I have often drawn near unto him with my Lips, when my Heart hath been far from him: I have too frequently, vainly and considerately used his great and fearful Name, and in the Eagerness of my Spirit I have not abstained from abusing it with rash Oaths and Execrations. My Vows and Promises that I have made in his Name, I have not performed: Those holy things whereon his sacred Name is set and imprinted, I have not duly regarded; and through my presumptuous Vanities,
